School Holidays

I wish everyone a safe and happy holiday and that the Easter bunny will find each and every one of you, no matter where you may be. Term Two will begin for students on Tuesday 29th April.

Life Education Van

The Life Education Van was at our school yesterday.

Students learned about keeping healthy and safe. Students from Mullengandra PS joined us for this important educational activity.

Easter and Wood Raffles

Thank you to everyone who donated items for our Easter raffle and for those who returned raffle ticket stubs and money. Thanks also to Lou Bull and her family, Mrs Gaukroger and Mrs McEachern who gave up some of their weekend to sell raffle tickets at the Thurgoona Plaza on Saturday. In total, $682.35 was raised to help fund mosaic sculptures which the students will create and install at the school entrance.

There were two draws, each for a huge basket of Easter goodies which were drawn earlier today! Congratulations to the winners, Ethan & Caleb and Mrs Sue Gugger.

Don't forget the P&C wood raffle tickets. This great prize will be drawn on Friday 2nd May (the first Friday after the holidays).

Small School's Athletics Carnival

The Small School's Athletic Carnival will be held at Alexandra Park in Albury tomorrow. All students from Kindergarten to Year 6 are invited to participate. Students need to be at Alexandra Park ready for the school march past which will commence at 10.00am. The carnival will then begin. Competitors (8yr age group and older) of the 800m events, however, will need to be at the ground ready to begin their event at 9am. It should prove to be a fun day of healthy competition. Please remember to pack sunscreen, a hat, a drink bottle and a big smile!

Please note: the school will be closed as all staff are attending the carnival and there will be no bus run.

Jackson Pollock Art

Fingers crossed the rain will hold off this week and the 2/3 class can have their turn at the Jackson Pollock art activity on Thursday morning. These students will need to bring old clothes as they might get a bit painty! With the help of Mrs McEachern, the students are creating a major Jackson Pollock inspired artwork for our school. Using techniques employed by Pollock, the students are splattering, squirting, splashing and squelching paint across a huge piece of canvas. The 4/5/6 class will have their turn early next term.

Halve Waste Program

This Thursday afternoon, students in the 4/5/6 class will participate in a specialised drama workshop conducted by the Halve Waste Program, which will explore waste and solutions to halving waste. There is no cost for this activity.

Easter Hat Parade

We are all looking forward to another fantastic display of creative home-made Easter hats this Friday at our Easter hat parade. We will hold the parade in the lead-up to lunch from 12.30pm.

P&C Pizza Lunch

I hope your order is in for the P&C pizza lunch for this Friday. What a great way to finish off the term. If you are yet to put in your child's order, I suggest you do it pronto!

Have you ever wondered...

ANZAC DAY

As ANZAC day falls in the school holidays this year parents are asked to make their child/children available for the ANZAC DAY

March on Friday 25th April, 2014 if possible. All marchers are required to be in full winter school uniform and line up at the corner of Spencer and Dean Streets (about 100m down Spencer Street) at 8.30am, so we can be prepared to march off at 9am. This year, all primary schools will march down the right hand side of Dean Street and high schools on the left side. Parents need to line the right hand side of Dean St (facing the Monument) in order to see their children. The parade will continue down Dean St until it reaches Townsend Street where the march will then disband and children can be collected by their parents.

Helping kids unwind

Nothing wrong with kids being busy as long as they have plenty of chances to relax and unwind.

Modern kids are busy kids. Regardless of age, their days are filled with activities.

Under fives do a range of adult-initiated learning activities designed to give them the best start to their learning lives.

School-aged kids have a huge range of leisure and after-school activities to choose from. It is not uncommon for kids to have four and five extra-curricular activities a week.

Nothing wrong with kids being busy as long as they have plenty of chances to relax and unwind.

Relaxation is a key to good mental health and well-being. It is an important life skill for kids to learn.

Balance busyness with boredom

One way to ensure busy kids unwind is to make sure kids get bored every so often.

There is a temptation to fill kids' days with activities so that no time is wasted.

"I'm bored!" is the last thing most parents want to hear their kids say. Many parents feel compelled to do something to alleviate a child's boredom.

There is nothing wrong with a little boredom now and then. Boredom can be good for kids' mental health and well-being, giving them the chance to muck around and take it easy for a time.

Here are 5 ideas to help you unwind your kids:

1. Let your kids regularly stare into the 'fire.'

Ever sat around a camp-fire and stared at the flames? If so, you will know how calming it is. No exertion! No need to think! No need to talk to anyone! Just a chance to chill-out and relax. The TV is the modern version of the camp-fire. Yep, TV used in this way is good for kids' mental health.

2. Let kids exercise without rules.

Kids are the kings and queens of play. Always have been. Until lately that is, when their lives have become highly organised and scheduled. Free, child-initiated play is the ultimate in relaxation. Fun games, games with few rules and games that kids control help them to unwind.

3. Let kids experience flow.

Flow is a state we get into when we are so engrossed in an activity that time disappears. It is the ultimate unwind. We get flow when we pursue our passions so encourage teens to find activities that they truly love and get lost in. Free play generally takes young children to flow very quickly so opportunities for unstructured play are essential.

4. Help kids calm down around bedtime.

Have a bedtime routine that calms kids down rather than winds them up. You can become part of this routine by reading books, telling nursery rhymes, providing soothing back rubs and other ways.

5. Unwind with your kids.

When I was young the best times I had with my dad were spent in the backyard playing cricket. Sounds like a cliché I know. It was fun because it was never a chore for him. He loved it as it was a chance for him to unwind after work. Find ways you can unwind and rejuvenate with your kids.

We want our kids to be busy and involved rather than inactive and apathetic. However, activity needs to be balanced with unscheduled time so that perspective as well as everyone's sanity is maintained.

MONTHLY REMINDER FOR THE EXCITING THINGS HAPPENING IN TABLE TOP!

I would like to remind you of the exciting things that are underway or planned in Table Top for April.
